

THERE'S A LIMIT EVEN TO S TRENUOSITY.

Sport Snap Shots

It begins to look as if the McFarland-Gibbons bout is off for good, now that what is said to be the real reason for its postponement has been aired abroad. When the match was first framed up it was arranged, so Packey says, that he should be given a guarantee of $10,000. However, that didn't seem to make much of a hit with Eddie Reddy, Gibbons' manager, who thought at the time and still thinks that Mike is as good as drawing card as Packey. After this had been wrangled over a while it was announced that both fighters had agreed to meet for a fifty-fifty share of the gate receipts. And then came the postponement. An action of the promoters is seen to be responsible for calling the fight off for a while. Packey and Mike Gibbons are partners in a safe ownership and under the first arrangement Packey was to get his $10,000 with the privilege of 35 per cent of the box office receipts. However, when the owners of the club who had to put up the change learned that Packey and Gibbons had a secret agreement—probably over the distribution of that ten thou.—they refused to offer the $10,000 guarantee and also refused to give more than 50 per cent of the house to the main bout. As Mike Gibbons would certainly not agree to fight for 15 per cent of the receipts, Billy Gibbons, promoter, found that he had to get in touch with Packey and talk the thing over to him. Packey was called down to N. Y. to wrangle with the backers of the club and try to straighten things out. And that's where things are right now. The fight has been postponed with no immediate hope of reaching a peaceable settlement.

Willie Ritchie recently said that after his fight with Tommy Murphy he would probably go to Australia. He had better change his mind, if he is reckless to undertake such a trip in the frail health of old age. It would seem that Tom O'Rourke, the fight promoter, was very fond of Epictetus in his college days, if he ever had any. At any rate in his selection of a motto for his seal he has favored one of the breeziest utterances of the old Greek. It appears stamped on all the tickets of the National Sporting club and runs as follows: "Prae Omnia Taurus." Which the learned ones tell us when rendered more or less literally into everyday English means: "Before everything else the bull." A very neat battle cry for a fight promoter.

Kid Williams doesn't hesitate to show his eagerness to fight Johnny Coulton. His manager has just posted $1,500 at Los Angeles to bind a match with the bantam king and $1,000 of that sum will be turned over to charity the moment Coulton puts his foot in the ring with Williams.

NATIONAL BOWLING MEET OPENS TODAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—From Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Canada, bowling teams congregated here today for the opening session of the International Bowling Association which will hold forth until February 22. There is far more interest manifested in the congress this year than

A VETERAN DRUGGIST TELLS FACTS ABOUT PERUNA.

Mr. L. A. Richardson, Marine, Illinois, writes: "I have been engaged in the retail drug business here for the past forty years. During this time I have seen many patent medicines come into use, flourish for one or two years and then gradually disappear. There are very few of these remedies that possess enough real merit to insure them long life.

"Peruna has always been a good seller with us, with a marked increase from year to year. The change in the formula some years ago, by the addition of the slightly laxative properties has made it a reliable remedy for constipation and for colds. If taken hourly in teaspoonful doses by adults it will break up the worst cold in two or three days' time. I take pleasure in urging my brother druggists to recommend it for these two ailments."

Mr. Richardson's credit rating in the Hayes Druggists' Directory is "A," which means high, the very best.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

COMISKEY IS ABLE TO VISIT VATICAN

Leader Of Chicago White Sox So Far Recovered As To Have Audience With Pope Pius.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Rome, Feb. 11.—Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American baseball league, was well enough today to go with the members of the American baseball team to the Vatican where the party was received by the pope.

Dr. John Edward Jones, American consul general at Genoa who has attended Mr. Comiskey during his illness accompanied the party which comprised 70 people. The American visitors were introduced to his Holiness by M. Charles A. O'Hern, vice rector of the American college in Rome who explained the National interest taken in baseball in the United States.

The pope greeted the visitors with great cordiality. He thanked them for their visit and in a short address praised the practice of athletic sports for the strengthening of the body and at the same time the practice of religion to strengthen the soul. He then imparted to all the Apostolic benediction.

The members of the teams were then photographed in the court of San Damasco. Cardinal Merry del Val, secretary of state, afterwards received the visitors. No game was played today owing to bad weather.

Immediately after the audience at the Vatican Mr. Comiskey went with Dr. John E. Jones and professor Giuseppe Bastianelli to a medical institute where he was examined by Professor Ulderico de Luca with the aid of the X-Ray.

DISPOSAL OF EVERS STIRS BASEBALLDOM

Action of President Murphy Disturbs Big League Managers Meeting at New York.

New York, Feb. 11.—The disposal of Johnnie Evers as manager of the Chicago Nationals by Charles W. Murphy, owner of the club, for the moment has sidetracked the important consideration that has brought so many baseball men to the city, the meeting of the National league. The national commission members, Ban Johnson, August Hermann and John K. Tener, were apparently so much perturbed at the news, coming as it did at so critical a time in baseball affairs, that they met and informally discussed the matter last night. No public statement was made after the meeting, but it is known Evers will go before the commission in the next day or two with his contract.

Gov. Tener, president of the National league, said he would study the contract held by Evers and that the player-manager would get justice. President Murphy of the Chicago club said that he had nothing to add to his statement given out in Chicago concerning his disposal of Evers and signing of Hank O'Day, one time manager of the Cincinnati club, to take Evers' place.

The mission of President Gilmore and his associates of the Federal league today remained as much a mystery as when they left Chicago on Monday. President Gilmore says it is a pleasure trip. The Federal leaguers are keeping themselves and while the ruling officers of the major leagues are planning a campaign to prevent invasion of their territory by the new organization.

The American league officers met today to adopt a playing schedule for 1914. The opening date will probably coincide very nearly with those announced yesterday by the National league, which called for initial contests on April 14. With the close of the season on October 7. To fill their playing dates the National league will travel 81,989 miles.

WISCONSIN WINS FIFTH CONTEST LAST NIGHT BY TRIMMING NORTHWESTERN

Playing in championship form, the Badger basketball five advanced a step nearer the conference title when they crushed Northwestern to a tune of 38 to 9, the purple five never approaching the Wisconsin five in any feature of the game. This is the fifth victory of Coach Menzies' squad and they have an unbroken march so far toward the title.

Harper, Lange and Captain Van Ghent starred for the Badgers, their sensational basket-shooting taking the heart of the purple players. Whittle of Northwestern was the only opposing player that gave the victors any trouble.

Wisconsin (38). Northwestern (9). Sands. Ellis. Hass. Whittle. Van Ghent. G. Whittle. Harper. Aldrich. Lange. Vele. Baskett. Van Ghent. (4). Anderson. Harper. (5). Brown. Aldrich. G. Whittle. (2). Holmes. Free throws—Harper, Van Ghent, H. Whittle. Substitutes—Wisconsin: Anderson for Hass; Booth for Sands; Brown for Lange; Bellows for Harper. Time of halves—20 minutes. Referee—Schommer, Chicago. Umpire—Biggie, Wabash.

MATTY MCCUE DEFEATS JACK WHITE AT RACINE

Matty McCue, Racine star, earned a decision over Jack White, Chicago Trio, in their ten round bout at Racine last night. A crashing blow on McCue's chin stirred the Racine boy to action and in the last round slugged the Chicago fighter around the middle. The blow put the Chicago fighter weakened White. In the tenth, White had lost his strength and was easy prey for the Racine star.

WILL THE HIGH FIVE DELIVER THE GOODS?

Many Jamesville Enthusiasts Believe Local High School Quintet Are Not a Real Team.

It is up to the Jamesville high school five, and coming basketball champs, to convince the rooters on Friday night that they are a real team and can deliver the goods. The belief that the quintet are far from experts at the game has caused considerable talk at the high school, as well as on the city street, by arguments arising from those interested in the stable opinions of the majority of the students. These opinions are knocks to the team, and are not desirable to the ears of the players.

A good arousing and enthusiastic support on the part of those witnessing the Jamesville-Madison struggle Friday night, would be greatly appreciated by the team members. When the team is in a fix, there was altogether too much optimism with a certain man didn't play up to his form, or that another player was loafing on the job. These facts do occur, but are a knock to the team, rather than a benefit when mentioned as they reach the players' ears. The coach criticizes with his team, because he has the right to. A little criticism of the students would do no harm, but if such mistakes as have been going on continue to occur, the team may not experience a place in the state meet.

The five have no such guards as Edler and Falter who aided the team greatly in pulling out with state honors last year. Considering that Dalton, a forward, has been shifted to guard and that the team is with a new man at the game, the squad are doing remarkably well. Captain Hemming at center, Atwood at forward, and Stewart or Stickney at the other forward together with the guards mentioned are hitting a 1,000 clip at present. Support will be a fifty per cent factor Friday night, allowing all five to be reported winners at the final whistle.

It is true Hemming and Atwood have not been playing their usual game this year, but perhaps they have reasons for not doing so. If it had been necessary to work harder in the Edgerton game in order to win, it can be safely said that these two men would have let loose, and walked away with Edgerton. They can deliver the goods, as can the rest of the team. A score, with Jamesville leading by from ten to twenty points, is possible Friday night, for Madison are not the team that the rumors make them out to be. Jamesville is going to win, and that is the only way to look at it. If they lose, it will be because they were beaten by a stronger floor playing team.

AMUSEMENTS

RUPERT HUGHES' NEW PLAYLET. THE DEAF MUTE.

Rupert Hughes, author of that remarkably successful Pullman fun-play, "Excuse Me," has contributed a strong war drama entitled "The Deaf Mute" for Mr. Edison's Talking Picture productions. The story, which is in two parts, tells of a spy in the Confederate service during the war of '61-'65. Breaking through the Union lines, the secret service man feigns total deafness when apprehended, and thus serves him in good stead in obtaining much valuable information. He is put to many tests, however, during those strenuous months, and his disguise is finally pierced and his methods exposed. The spy is allowed to overhear a Union officer relating an incident concerning his sweetheart, and forgetting himself, gives the fellow the proof which they seek of his purpose within their lines.

But the young lady in question proves equal to the occasion and through her influence a reprieve is obtained, and the war's termination finds a happy union of the lovers. Mr. Hughes' new Talking Photo Play is a splendid production, and the success of this playlet points to more sensational plays and sketches being prepared by our recognized dramatists for Mr. Edison's Talking Picture productions.

The new program to be presented at the Myers Theatre on Thursday and Friday, February 12 and 13, comprises, in addition to "The Deaf Mute," a base ball sketch featuring the world-famed manager of the New York National League club, John J. McGraw, a cabaret number with Dempsey, Seymour and Dempsey, and a number of pleasing comedies, farces and dramas.

THE APOLLO THEATRE. Checkers, which is a book and play delighted thousands, is now delighting more than ever in motion pictures. It was shown for the first time at the Apollo last night and those who saw it before on the stage claimed it was better than ever. It will be shown again tonight for the last time.

Among the three good acts one deserves special mention. The Rosselli cabaret number, whose voices are charming, pug, in their ten round bout at Ra-

JOHNNY EVERS OUSTED AS MANAGER OF CUBS; HANK O'DAY SUCCESSOR

Baseball fans of Chicago are unable to explain the ousting of Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, from his managership berth and the naming of Hank O'Day, former umpire and Cincinnati manager, to pilot the Chicago Nationals next year.

The change came as a complete surprise to the Chicago fans, for while there has been considerable trouble between Murphy, owner, and Evers, it was thought that with the showing that the Cubs made last year under adverse conditions, that the second baseman would lead the Cubs next year. Murphy was in New York and the knowledge of the change was given out by telegram. The deposed manager declares that he is through with the boss of the Cubs and although by contract he is still a Cub member, wishes to play with Chance on the New York Americans.

First Game Friday. The first game will take place Friday night as a curtain-raiser to the Jamesville-Madison conflict. The Methodist five, composed of Richards, capt. Beard, Rummage, Williams and Mott, will meet the five representing the Baptist church. Capt. Beard has not picked his regular aggregation, but has very promising material. Mark Jones is his center. The game promises to be a fitting beginning to the big contest.

WEATHER FORECAST.
COLD WAVE
Fair. Lower temperatures may be expected.

HUERTA AND MEXICO.
Huerta may not be the national hero of Mexico, but just the same he is a mighty clever gentleman and he holds onto his place in the City of Mexico despite all talk to the contrary. John Lind has had lots of opportunity to learn to talk Mexican and walk Spanish since he went down to order Mister Huerta out of Mexico and he will be many moons older before his mission is finished. The trouble is that Huerta has the control of the army and the national funds and that means a whole lot. He also has lots of sympathizers in the United States who would not be sorry to see him lick Villa and his other rebellious rebel chieftains out of their boots on the first opportunity if only to prove President Wilson is wrong. Huerta has not scared worth a bit and he is no more afraid of the great weapon, the Monroe Doctrine, than Japan is. There is a nice combination to have the possibility of facing Mexican and Jap. Why they are worse than Bret Hart's "heathen Chinee."

CONGRESS AGAIN.
Congress is still in session, busy enacting laws down at Washington to strengthen the democratic party in the nation as a whole. The present session has been a busy one, a continuation of the extra session that lasted up to the start of the regular, and from present indications it means that congress will do as President Wilson says or it might just as well quit. Wilson is laying all his fences for the re-election of a democratic congress to succeed the present and the republican whips are equally insistent that the next congress be republican. If it is going to be republican, lots of work must be done the country through and there must be no shirking by those who are responsible for the outcome at the polls next November. Meanwhile the democratic congress continues to grind out legislation that is going to play all hob with the American industries before this country is many moons older.

CIVIC NEEDS.
Janesville needs a good-sized dose of civic pride. It needs a general awakening to the responsibility that right here at home lies a golden opportunity that merely waits the touch of some Midas-like individual to wake into life and become a wonderful creation. If everyone got together and forgot all past personal differences and worked for the common cause, it could mean this Midas touch and the awakening of the sleeping power of the community. Get together on the fair proposition it on nothing else. The hospital campaign demonstrated what can be accomplished by an enthusiastic band of workers. Why not continue to go to work and organize the whole city into one vast organization of boosters right here at home to exploit Janesville and its possibilities to their utmost. Civic pride should go a long way towards accomplishing the desired end, so wake up to the responsibilities of the minute.

MILITANT SUFFRAGE.
England is continuing to have its share of the militant suffrage question. The English parliament is again in session and what with home rule for Ireland, who does not want it; the suffrage question, the Balkan situation and South African troubles it is going to be a merry time. The suffragists mean to make the poor members of parliament forget all their other troubles by listening to their demand for equal suffrage. If they can not obtain it one way they mean to try another and the poor bishop of London was the first to feel the effects of their new policy when they surrounded his palace and refused to permit him to go to the House of Lords to take his seat Tuesday at the opening of that august body. It is going to be lively times for Johnny Bull yet and he looks with longing at the United States and the manner in which the suffrage question is handled on this side of the "puddle."

IN TIME OF PEACE.
In spite of the peaceful attitude of President Wilson on the Mexican situation it appears as though his secretaries of war and naval affairs are alive to the situation that the best way to prevent a war is to be prepared for it. Perhaps no war will come; certainly none is really imminent, but still you can never tell. The lesson taught at the time of the recent trouble with Spain has taught the wise men of the army and navy to be prepared and that being prepared was half the conflict. Congress has responded by making ample appropriations for added ammunition and other necessary equipment and now it is up to the working end of the various departments to figure out how this money is to be used to the best advantage. "In time of peace prepare for war."

Education is a costly article these days. The old pedagogue with his swallow-tail coat, his quill pens, his three R's—reading, righting, rithmetick—is gone to the realm of yesterdays, and in its place we have a university president who is paid a handsome salary gallivanting about the country exploiting the "Wisconsin Idea." This same old idea is a mighty costly appendage to the tail of the Wisconsin badger.

One reason why taxes are so high we are told, is that there are so many highways being constructed through out the state for which the general public has to pay. Poppycock! Just look over the salary list at the state university and the state capital with its various commissions and the real reason is not hard to find. It may be all right to state these things at social centers, but the figures tell the story.

So Janesville is going to have a boxing club. Well, there have been some pretty good contests held in Janesville in the past and some poor ones. The boxing game is one of the most uncertain and the men, who stand up and pound themselves for a few dollars can not be depended upon but it is to be hoped that under state supervision these bouts will be at least on the square.

It would appear as though Mr. Ex-convict Conlin, who boasted of his having served forty-two years in state prisons, thought that the country owed him a living? Well, he will find a nice home for the next three years up at Waupun and it may teach some others a lesson that it is not good policy to monkey with the buzz-saw of justice in Rock county, at least just at present.

The men who attended the Twilight club dinner last night and heard Governor McGovern talk on the "High Cost of Living," went home pretty well satisfied that they knew before hand what made it cost so much to live and make the average pay day envelope look so small after some of the bills were paid.

It is pretty nearly long enough since Sunday's snow storm to have at least a path, shoveled through the various sidewalks in the city and if the property-owners do not do it the city should. It is an outrage to ask pedestrians to wade through snow when there are plenty of men needing work.

Come on in boys, the water is fine. The ice has been broken in the commission's campaign and it is up to the interested public now to step up and size up the various candidates and see what interests are behind them before making any definite selection.

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, but when it comes to apeing all the follies of the weak-minded foreign nations it is time to call a halt and remember that we are Americans and not volatile latins or inhabitants of a half-civilized country.

Milwaukee is going to have a mayoralty campaign that promises to wake up the Cream City. The socialists are going to try and win back what they lost two years ago, and it is going to be a merry scrap.

Theatrical men complain that never in the history of their business has there been such a lean year. However, the "Movies" do not complain and that, perhaps, accounts for the present theatrical situation.

Bryan is perfectly safe as long as he has the President back of him to cover up all his mistakes in diplomacy in the interests of his own personal pursuit of the almighty, but, elusive, American dollar.

Being a hermit out in the wilds of Orfordville is not half as romantic as it would be if the hermit was on a desert island where there was no feeling sheriff to spoil your pleasure.

The Apollo club is to be complimented in having brought the Welsh singers to Janesville to give music, lovers and even the uninitiated a taste of real genuinely good music.

Father of F. J. Lee of Milton, To Be Surrounded by Four Generations on 93rd Birthday.

Charles J. Lee of Carpinteria, California, a small village 100 miles from Los Angeles, is arranging to celebrate his ninety-third birthday anniversary on February 16th, at his home, if plans, which have been formulated, are successful. He will be surrounded by children of four generations. His oldest great-grandchild is now over five years of age. Mr. Lee is the father of F. J. Lee of Milton. He was one of the "forty-niners" who made the trip from Wisconsin to Forest City. In a sailing vessel, from New York, across the isthmus, and north to California, which trip constituted forty days of travelling. He took with him his wife and four children. After making the Forest City the home for 16 years, they returned to the Badger state, where they resided for 16 years. They then moved to Carpinteria.

Two of Mr. Lee's children live in Carpinteria. They are, Charles, Jr., and Mrs. Elizabeth Treloar. Their children have passed away. Another son, already mentioned, resides in Milton. Mr. Lee has twenty-seven grand-children, thirty-four great-grand-children, and three great-great-grand-children. His daughter, Mrs. Treloar, has nine children, eighteen grand-children, three great-grand-children, and eight great-great-grand-children. Lee; great-grandmother, Elizabeth Treloar; grandmother, Elizabeth Treloar; Mr. O. L. Kephart, his mother, and Master Lester Kephart.

GRAHAM TAYLOR WILL GIVE TWO LECTURES

Noted Social Worker to Address Economic and Civic Clubs Here March Twelfth.

Members of the Household Economics Club and the Janesville Girls League will be afforded a rare treat when Graham Taylor of Chicago gives his two addresses in this city on March 12th. The noted social worker will speak to the Economics club at the Baptist church in the afternoon, and it is expected that over two hundred members of the county organization will hear Mr. Taylor in his lecture, "Chicago Commons and Social Work."

In the evening ladies of the Civic League have secured his consent to speak on an interesting municipal topic, but it has not been decided where he will give his address. Janesville is fortunate to secure Mr. Taylor, as his reputation as a social settlement worker and head of the Chicago Commons is national, and from his wide experience should give many ideas to the club for their work.

KENOSHA VOTERS REJECT COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

Kenosha will not fall in line immediately with the other cities that have adopted the commission form of government. Yesterday, by a vote of almost two to one, the proposition to establish a commission instead of the old council system was defeated. It is thought that the reason that the vote was so low in favor of the plan was the lack of united interest on the part of those who favored the inauguration of the new system. The final vote was 1,021 against and 1,103 for the system. Local speakers addressed meetings during the campaign for and against the question.

NEW YORK STATE IN THROES OF COLD WAVE

Waterbury, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Northern New York experienced the second cold snap of the winter today, the mercury dropping to 22 below zero in the official thermometer during the night in this city.
Don't let your house remain vacant for a month when you can find a tenant for what a few days' rent would bring.

LENTEN TIME STARTS AT EARLIER PERIOD

Ash Wednesday Two Weeks From Date, Begins Days of Sacrifice, Which Comes Earlier.

Ash Wednesday, which this year falls on February 25, marks the beginning of the Lenten season, and in Janesville as elsewhere is the date from which forty days of counting Sundays, there is pause in the round of human festivity and in some sort of giving up of the mere pleasures of life.
Unlike the New Year, Lent carries with it something more than a merely human desire or resolve to do good or to make sacrifice; since it is a religious and not merely a secular date, and commemorative of those final days in the life of Jesus Christ, Great Sacrifice. Under such circumstances it is not strange that men and women in a Christian world should observe Lent or that they should abstain from the pleasures of the world in contemplation of the "that far-off" divine event toward which the whole creation moved.

In 1913 the date of Ash Wednesday was twenty days earlier than this year, and for this reason the pastor's date was on March 23, instead of April 12 as it is this year. Easter is, in fact, a movable feast instead of a fixed date, and the date of the observance of the council of Nice, which ordained that the observance of Easter should be on the first Sunday following the date of the vernal equinox, which is March 21. The latest date on which Easter might fall is April 25, so that there are in all thirty-five possible dates for its observance. In fact the Easter date comes from the Jewish Passover, which is intimately connected in the biblical story, which occurs on the Saturday preceding Easter—this year April 11. In the Greek and Russian calendar, the date is fixed by the equinox, which is the same as in the Julian or old style which in old countries where the Greek is the national church still obtains.

In the year 1915 Easter will fall on April 4, in 1916 on April 23, in 1917 on April 8, in 1918 on March 28, in 1919 on April 20, in 1920 on April 12, in 1921 on April 4, in 1922 on March 26, in 1923 on April 14, in 1924 on April 6, in 1925 on March 29, in 1926 on April 11, in 1927 on April 3, in 1928 on March 26, in 1929 on April 14, in 1930 on April 6, in 1931 on March 29, in 1932 on April 11, in 1933 on April 3, in 1934 on March 26, in 1935 on April 14, in 1936 on April 6, in 1937 on March 29, in 1938 on April 11, in 1939 on April 3, in 1940 on March 26, in 1941 on April 14, in 1942 on April 6, in 1943 on March 29, in 1944 on April 11, in 1945 on April 3, in 1946 on March 26, in 1947 on April 14, in 1948 on April 6, in 1949 on March 29, in 1950 on April 11, in 1951 on April 3, in 1952 on March 26, in 1953 on April 14, in 1954 on April 6, in 1955 on March 29, in 1956 on April 11, in 1957 on April 3, in 1958 on March 26, in 1959 on April 14, in 1960 on April 6, in 1961 on March 29, in 1962 on April 11, in 1963 on April 3, in 1964 on March 26, in 1965 on April 14, in 1966 on April 6, in 1967 on March 29, in 1968 on April 11, in 1969 on April 3, in 1970 on March 26, in 1971 on April 14, in 1972 on April 6, in 1973 on March 29, in 1974 on April 11, in 1975 on April 3, in 1976 on March 26, in 1977 on April 14, in 1978 on April 6, in 1979 on March 29, in 1980 on April 11, in 1981 on April 3, in 1982 on March 26, in 1983 on April 14, in 1984 on April 6, in 1985 on March 29, in 1986 on April 11, in 1987 on April 3, in 1988 on March 26, in 1989 on April 14, in 1990 on April 6, in 1991 on March 29, in 1992 on April 11, in 1993 on April 3, in 1994 on March 26, in 1995 on April 14, in 1996 on April 6, in 1997 on March 29, in 1998 on April 11, in 1999 on April 3, in 2000 on March 26.

NOT GUILTY VERDICT RETURNED IN TRIAL

William Hutcherson Acquitted of Charges Preferred Against Him by Richard Finley.

William Hutcherson, whose trial on the charge of assault and battery and guage was held in the municipal court yesterday, was acquitted by the verdict of the jury, and the case was dismissed. The testimony of Hutcherson's young wife, who was given late in the trial, doubtless had its weight with the jury. Richard Finley was the complainant.
After drawing the jury yesterday morning both attorneys submitted testimony. E. H. Ryan, prosecuting lawyer, placing John Drew, John Timmons and Richard Finley, plaintiff, on the stand in an attempt to prove that Hutcherson, a tenant on Finley's farm, had been the client of an attorney in connection with a settlement following a tobacco shipment. Defending Attorney J. J. Cunningham placed Hutcherson's son on the stand and proved to the satisfaction of the jury that there was no cause for action. Both Finley and Hutcherson testified several times and after the lawyers completed their arguments the jury was out for only fifteen minutes before they returned the verdict.

MAKE SEARCH HERE FOR FENSTERMACHER FAMILY

City Clerk J. P. Hammartund received a telegram this morning that it would be to the interest of the members of a family named Fenstermacher, of Windom, Minn., to communicate with C. E. Beckel of Beloit, Pennsylvania. No such name was recorded in the directory or in the records at the city hall, but inquiries are being made to locate the family or descendants. No reason was stated in the letter, but there was a point that there has been a legacy left to the family wanted.

VILLAGE OF ALBANY VOTES FOR WATER WORKS

Albany citizens will have a municipal waterworks within the course of the next few months. Yesterday a vote was taken and the result obtained, 97 to 65, was in favor of bonding the village for waterworks. This was a record for Albany, and it was as every new improvement in a village reflects in greater wealth for the community as a whole.

Mrs. William A. Drummond entertained a company of young ladies on Monday evening at a dinner party in honor of Miss Flore Drake, who is soon to be married to David J. Drummond. Table decorations were artistic and appropriate for the occasion. The evening was spent very pleasantly at music and dancing and Miss Drake was presented with a beautiful set of china.

EXTOLS ABILITIES OF BLIND STUDENTS

Superintendent Hooper Tells of Unusual Accomplishments of Two of His Pupils.

There are two pupils in the state school for the blind at Janesville that are almost prodigies, said Superintendent J. T. Hooper of the school, when he appeared before the state board of control today regarding the erection of new buildings at the institution. One is Blanche Cornell of Plainfield and the other is Joseph Grebner of Barneveld. Each child is about 18 years of age and totally blind.
Blanche has yet to find a girl 18 years old, who is possessed of her sight that is at all equal to Blanche Cornell in musical accomplishments," said Superintendent Hooper. "And Joseph Grebner is an adept with the violin. Both students will graduate this year."

In two years the attendance at the state school has increased 50 per cent. "That does not mean there are only a few blind people in the state of school age, it does mean that the blind children have been brought to school for education. We now have 121 children in the institution ranging in ages from 5 to 27 years. There are only a few children over twenty years of age, and these have never had the advantages of an education.
"The blind children are the same as the seeing ones. They romp and play, climb trees and pick nuts and do twice the work that the ordinary children do in the public schools. Their work is all planned, they get up early and go to bed early. All have exercise, and the attendance of a doctor upon a patient is a rare occasion. There is so much to the education of the deaf, but it is the education of the seeing to realize that the deaf can do most of the things that they can. We have some pupils in the institution who are deaf and ordinary children would need new buildings this year. A dining-room, kitchen and dormitory are to be erected and later a kindergarten building."

BEET GROWERS PLAN FOR SUMMER'S CROP

Yesterday afternoon W. H. Heide and W. S. Faulkner of Milwaukee, representing the United States Sugar company of Madison, were in the city to confer with C. E. Richards, secretary and treasurer of the Rock County Sugar Beet Growers Association. Their business was relative to making contracts for the coming season for growing sugar beets. Their contract is practically the same as that of last year, $5.50 per ton, F. O. B. cars or weight in tare at station being offered. This contract has been accepted already by the associations of the counties of Racine and Kenosha.

ABE MARTIN

It's a common thing for corporations to lay off men, but we never hear of them cutting any salaries. Is just another name for tight head.

Good Advice.
An editor, in reply to a young writer who wished to know which magazine would give him the highest position quickest, advised "a powder magazine, especially if you contribute a fiery article."

Arrest Stranger: Policeman Gower and Constable Dulin arrested a stranger who refused to give his name shortly after three o'clock this afternoon, for creating a disturbance on North Main street. When approached by the officers the man resisted arrest but was loaded into a passing wagon and taken to the lockup.

A Winter Cough: An annoying cough hangs on, rakes the body weak as the lungs are often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders, of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. 35c. back if not satisfied. Price 50c and $1.00. At all Druggists. People's Drug Co.

MAMMA, DADDY AND THE CHILDREN CAN ALL TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Harmless "fruit-laxative" cleanses the stomach, liver and bowels without any griping.

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, salivaceousness, "Calomel" Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children. Because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

PROFIT IN RAISING ALFALFA IS SLIGHT

ALLEN B. WEST WRITES THAT MORE GAIN COULD BE REALIZED BY GROWERS.

IMPROVES THE SOIL

After Alfalfa is Established in Ground It Requires Little Care and is Good for Years.

(By Allen B. West.)

ALFALFA. What makes the landscape look so fair; What blossoms bright; perfume the air; What plant repays the farmer's toil; And will enrich the worn-out soil?

What is the crop that always pays, And will mature in forty days, Resisting drought, the frost, and heat; Whose roots reach down one hundred feet?

What grows in loam, clay and sand; What lifts the mortgage off the land; What crop is cut six times a year, And no foul weeds in it appear?

What makes the swine so healthy feed, And never raise a hungry squeal; The Wholesome food that never fails To put three curbs into their tails?

What makes all other stock look nice, And bring the highest market price; What fills the milk pails, feeds the calf, And makes the old cow almost laugh?

The above poem quoted from the Illinois Farmers' Institute Bulletin No. 18 sets forth the virtues of the "Queen of forage plants."

Possibly the unknown author of these lines might be offended should we say they contain more "truth than poetry" but more than likely his object in writing them was to convey truth in an effective way and in this he seems to have succeeded.

In Wisconsin it may be doubtful if the roots reach down 100 feet or that one may cut six crops a year, and weeds do sometimes appear in it, but not under ideal conditions.

All the other statements concerning the crop, however, have been proven true in Wisconsin, where it was introduced about twenty years ago, ex-Governor Hoard being the first to recognize its importance. It has been grown in America for four hundred years, having been introduced from Europe by the Spaniards. Nearly five hundred years before the Christian era it was carried from Persia to Rome, spreading over Southern Europe under the name of lucerne. Though it has been known for some time in the west, it has not been thought possible to grow it in Wisconsin until within the last two decades, and many Rock county farmers are still contending that they cannot grow it upon their land.

Alfalfa is grown in large quantities in Rock county and throughout the acreage is constantly increasing. It is not raised to the extent that it might be raised with profit. According to Circular No. 35 of Wisconsin Experimental Station the neighboring counties of Green and Jefferson lead in the production of alfalfa in Wisconsin, while Waukesha, Fond du Lac, Walworth, Racine and Kenosha counties, come next in the order named.

In previous articles it has been shown that protein is one of the constituents of food required by dairy cattle in order that they may be brought to the highest efficiency. It is the constituent that the farmer is seeking when he buys bran for feed. Experiments show that bran and alfalfa have about the same protein value, in the production of milk and butter fat and that dairy cows fed on alfalfa showed a better physical condition than those fed on bran.

Now, alfalfa once started successfully is grown with a small amount of labor, so that it may be cheaply produced. It has also been proven that it improves the soil.

One of the promoters of alfalfa growing in the state of Illinois, has compiled some figures to show the value of alfalfa as compared with other farm crops. Assuming that a good crop of timothy hay is one and one-half tons to the acre and of clover two tons and of alfalfa six tons, and of alfalfa four tons, we find by giving the proper allowances for the value of the different digestible nutrients on an acre that the one and one-half tons of timothy hay would be worth $28.24, one ton of alfalfa would be worth $32.00, and four tons of alfalfa would be worth $128.00. It costs much more to raise a corn crop than it does a crop of alfalfa. It costs but little more to establish it than to put in a crop of corn, and when once established it requires little care and will be a profitable crop from four to six years, then being plowed under to enrich the soil and in better condition than when it was put in.

The writer has on his five acre "farm" an acre of alfalfa, which this year gave a yield of 4 tons. Estimating the value of the alfalfa by the price it would bring in the market the crop was worth $128 and the cost of cutting and putting it into the barn being about $8 it gave a profit of $120 for the acre, this when land is renting for about $8 per acre is pretty fair profit especially when we consider the fact that alfalfa is enriching the soil in humus and most of the elements necessary to plant life and making it more friable. Estimating the value of the crop according to its value as a feed as a substitute for corn which is the most common feed alfalfa is used, we find its value doubled.

As stated above experiments have proven that one ton of alfalfa equals in protein value a ton of bran. Bran is present in the alfalfa in the form of the seed, and the value of the alfalfa is doubled and has $80 instead of $40 as the profit for the acre.

With land renting at $8.00 per acre we are reminded of the experience of the man who tells his story in one of the Illinois bulletins who rented an acre to the Illinois experimental station at Urbana for $6 per acre and then paid them $138 for the first two cuttings of alfalfa from 5 acres of that land. The experimental station still had the alfalfa, and the proceeds from the other 15 acres.

Comparing the value of alfalfa and timothy hay as forage crop for dairy cows it is found that a ration containing 10 pounds of alfalfa produces 17 percent more milk than the same ration with timothy hay. Alfalfa has the value of the alfalfa is doubled and has $80 instead of $40 as the profit for the acre.

It is also an excellent feed for beef, authorities claiming that steers can be fattened on 1/2 less corn with alfalfa for roughage than without it. In short there seems to be no class of animals raised on the farm that are not benefited by being fed alfalfa. In subsequent papers the method of raising alfalfa will be discussed.

The following bulletins give extended information with reference to alfalfa: Alfalfa as a Wisconsin Forage Plant, R. A. Moore, Circular No. 13, 1913; Alfalfa Hay vs. Bran, Timothy Hay, and Alfalfa Hay vs. Bran, Bulletin No. 146, Illinois Experiment Station, 1912; Growing Alfalfa in Illinois, Bulletin No. 13, U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, 1912; Alfalfa, Station Bulletin No. 35, Nebraska Experiment Station, Bulletin No. 116, Report of Ill. Farmers Institute, Vol. 17, $80.00. It costs much more to raise a corn crop than it does a crop of alfalfa.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

The school is sending out circular letters this week to all of the teachers in Rock county who teach in the country.

These students were neither absent nor tardy. The school quarter: Zetta Kealey, Josephine Barrett and Hazel Logan.

The class of 1913 is about to purchase a fine "Sir Galahad" for Miss Jacobson's room.

Frances Call is obliged to be out of school on account of the serious illness of her mother.

Mary Madden's sister, Margaret, of Edgerton was a visitor at the Training School recently, spending a full day.

A debate on Woman Suffrage constituted part of the program at the school this week. The affirmative was argued by Alice Smith, Margaret Arneson, and Hazel Trumble, while the negative was upheld by Jeanette Tollefson, Mary Madden, and Marion Williams. The negative won by a vote of two to one.

The principal visited the school on Monday, Feb. 9, and on Wednesday of this week.

The geography class is making good use of a dissected map of the United States for drill purposes. This game element adds to the value of the exercise.

The recent suggestions sent out by Sup't. C. P. Cary relative to the work of teachers are being utilized by the practice teachers.

Ruth Trumble, who was obliged to leave school on Monday, Feb. 9, on account of ill health has returned to take up her work, and she expects to graduate in June.

The Training School Board met last Saturday at which time teachers were elected to the business of the school.

It was voted to run the six weeks summer session again for the benefit of all beginners and of others working for first and second grade certificates.

Questions: (a) What is the oldest town in the United States? (b) Its large hotel bears the name of him who sought for something in vain. Who was he? (c) What walled city on the St. Lawrence River? (d) What city is called the "Hub"? (e) What is the "Quaker" city? (f) What and where are the "Twin Cities"?

The geography class is using a new book put out by the state, entitled "Geography and Industries of Wisconsin." This book is written by Professor R. H. Whitbeck of the State University.

The Memorial Day Annual for 1914 has been received and will be used by the students for programs.

Miss Jacobson is using the "List of Words to be Used in the State Fair Spelling Contest" in the Training School spelling class. The list was prepared by the committee on spelling, including J. B. Borden, assistant State Superintendent of Schools.

Principal F. J. Lowth and Miss Ella Jacobson will attend the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association at Madison on Friday and Saturday.

On Saturday, February 7, the special subject for the literary program will be the observance of the Lincoln-Washington anniversaries. The following students will present parts as indicated:

Lincoln, the Man—Marie Dobson. How to Observe Washington's Birthday—Nellie Hendrickson. Some Lincoln Stories—Elizabeth Gower.

Washington—Vera Irving. Each member of the Senior History Class has purchased a copy of "Outlines in U. S. History" by S. Laura Ensign.

Two good texts contain the civil government of the state viz.—James and Sanford, New Edition, Gillan and Hewitt. Now take your choice. Teach civics as a living, growing, vital subject, not as a dead thing. There is nothing more disheartening than teaching the bare text of the Constitution.

The school management class has recently been studying Rules and Punishments.

The county teachers who come to the Training School on Saturday, February 21, will find the lantern slides on Lincoln and on Picturesque Wisconsin interesting and profitable.

Sup't. Antisdal has sent a copy of The School Law Supplement to every teacher under his jurisdiction. This supplement has been compiled under the direction of C. P. Cary, State Superintendent. Teachers will find that it contains much valuable information and they should read it through carefully, especially the sections which concern them.

How I Darkened My Gray Hair

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 oz. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and scalp humors, and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp. You can prepare it at home, at very little expense.

Safe at Least for a While.

Conductor—We have missed the connection, and you will have to wait at this station six hours. Old lady (who is a little nervous on the railroad)—Well, I'm safe for six hours, anyway.

"I consulted with one or two physicians, without benefit. I read of Vinol helping some one in a similar condition so I began to take it, and it simply did wonders for me. "It seems quite clear, Mrs. Wrاندall, that she robbed the man after stabbing him," said the coroner.

Mrs. Wrاندall started. "Then she was not a lady, after all," she said quickly. There was a note of relief in her voice. It was as if she had put aside a half-formed conclusion.

"His pockets were empty. Not a penny had been left. Watch, cuff links, scarf pin, cigarette case, purse and bill folder—all gone. Burton had seen most of these articles in the office."

"Isn't it—but not why should I be the one to offer a suggestion that might be construed as a defense for this woman?"

"You were about to suggest, madam, that some one else might have taken the valuables—is that it?" cried the sheriff.

"Had you thought of it, Mr. Sheriff?"

"I had not. It isn't reasonable. No one about this place is suspected. We have thought of this, however: the murderess may have taken all of these things away with her in order to prevent immediate identification of her victim. She may have been clever enough for that. It would give her a start."

"Not an unreasonable conclusion, when you stop to consider, Mr. Sheriff, that the man took the initiative in that very particular," said Mrs. Wrاندall in such a self-contained way that the three men looked at her in wonder. Then she came abruptly to her feet. "It is very late, gentlemen. I am ready to go upstairs, Mr. Sheriff."

"I must warn you, madam, that Mr. Drake is reasonably certain that it is your husband," said the coroner uncomfortably. "You may not be prepared for the shock that—"

"I shall not faint, Dr. Sheef. If it is my husband I shall ask you to leave me alone in the room with him for a little while." The final word trailed out into a long, tremulous wail, showing how near she was to the breaking point in her wonderful effort at self-control. The men looked away hastily. They heard her draw two or three deep, quivering breaths; they could almost feel the tension that she was exercising over herself.

The doctor turned after a moment and spoke very gently, but with professional firmness. "You must not think of venturing out in this wretched night, madam. It would be the worst kind of folly. Surely you will be guided by me—by your own common sense. Mrs. Burton will be with you."

"Thank you, Dr. Sheef," she interposed calmly. "If what we all fear should turn out to be the truth, I could not stay here. I could not breathe. I could not live. If, on the other hand, Mr. Drake is mistaken, I shall stay. But if it is my husband, I cannot remain under the same roof with him, even though he be dead. I do not expect you to understand my feelings. It would be asking too much of men—too much."

"I think I understand," murmured Drake.

"Come," said the sheriff, arousing himself with an effort.

She moved swiftly after him. Drake and the coroner, following close behind Mrs. Burton, could not take their eyes from the slender, graceful figure. She was a revelation to them. Feeling as they did that she was about to be confronted by the most appalling crisis imaginable, they could not but marvel at her composure. Drake's mind dwelt on the stories of the guillotine and the heroines who went up to it in those bloody days, without so much as a quiver of dread. Somehow, to him, this woman was a heroine.

signed for him to open the door he guarded. As he did so, a chilly blast of air blew upon the faces of those in the hall. The curtains in the window of the room were flapping and whipping in the wind. Mrs. Wrاندall caught her breath. For the briefest instant it seemed as though she was on the point of fainting. She dropped farther behind the sheriff, her limbs suddenly stiff, her hand going out to the wall as if for support. The next moment she was moving forward resolutely into the icy, dimly lighted room.

A single electric light gleamed in the corner beside the bureau. Near the window stood the bed. She went swiftly toward it, her eyes fastened upon the ridge that ran through the center of it: a still, white ridge that seemed without beginning or end.

With nervous fingers the attendant lifted the sheet at the head of the bed and turned it back. As he let it fall across the chest of the dead man he drew back and turned his face away.

She bent forward and then straightened her figure to its full height, without for an instant removing her gaze from the face of the man who lay before her: a dark-haired man arched in death, who must have been beautiful to look upon in the flush of life.

For a long time she stood there looking, as motionless as the object on which she gazed. Behind her were the tense, keen-eyed men, not one of whom seemed to breathe during the grim minutes that passed. The wind howled about the corners of the inn, but no one heard it. They heard the beating of their hearts, even the ticking of their watches, but not the wail of the wind.

At last her hands, claw-like in their tenseness, went slowly to her temples. Her head dropped slightly forward, and a great shudder ran through her body. The coroner started forward, expecting her to collapse.

"Please go away," she was saying in an absolutely emotionless voice. "Let me stay here alone for a little while."

"That was all. The men relaxed. They looked at each other with a single question in their eyes. Was it quite safe to leave her alone with her dead? They hesitated.

She turned on them suddenly, spreading her arms in a wide gesture of self-absolution. Her somber eyes swept the group.

"I can do no harm. This man is mine. I want to look at him for the last time alone. Will you go?"

"Do you mean, madam, that you intend to—?" began the coroner in alarm. She clasped her hands. "I mean that I shall take my last look at him now—and here. Then you may do what you like with him. He is your dead—not mine. I do not want him. Can you understand? I do not want this dead thing. But there is something I should say to him, something that I must say. Something that no one must hear but the good God who knows how much he has hurt me. I want to say it close to those gray, horrid ears. Who knows? He may hear me!"

Wondering, the others backed from the room. She watched them until they closed the door.

Listening, they heard her lower the window. It squealed like a thing in fear.

Ten minutes passed. The group in the hall conversed in whispers.

"Poor thing," said the innkeeper's wife.

"Well," said Drake, taking a deep breath, "she won't have to worry any more about his not coming home nights. I say, this business will create a fearful sensation, sheriff. The Four Hundred will have a convulsion fit."

"We've got to land that girl, wherever she is," grated the official. "Now that we know who he is, it shouldn't be hard to pick out the woman he's been trailing with lately. Then we can sit 'em down until the right one is left. It ought to be easy."

"I'm not so sure of it," said the coroner, shaking his head. "I have a feeling that she isn't one of the ordinary type. It wouldn't surprise me if she belongs to—well, you might say the upper ten. Somebody's wife, don't you see. That will make it rather difficult, especially as her tracks have been pretty well covered."

"It beats me, how she got away without leaving a single sign behind her," acknowledged the sheriff. "She's a wonder, that's all I've got to say." At that instant the door opened and Mrs. Wrاندall appeared. She stopped short, confronting the huddled group, dry-eyed but as pallid as a ghost. Her eyes were wide, apparently unseeing; her colorless lips were parted in the drawn rigidity that suggested but one thing to the professional man who looks: the "rictus sardonius" of the strychnine victim. With a low cry, the doctor started forward, fully convinced that she had swallowed the deadly drug.

"For God's sake, madam," he began. But as he spoke her expression changed; she seemed to be aware of their presence for the first time. Her eyes narrowed in a curious manner.

A Great Shudder Ran Through Her Body.

and the rigid lips seemed to surge with blood, presenting the effect of a queer, swift-fading smile that lingered long after her face was set and serious.

"Neglected to raise the window, Dr. Sheef," she said in a low voice. "It was very cold in there." She shivered slightly. "Will you be so kind as to tell me what I am to do now? What formalities remain for me?"

The coroner was at her side. "Time enough for that, Mrs. Wrاندall. The first thing you are to do is to take something warm to drink, and pull yourself together a bit."

She drew herself up coldly. "I am quite myself, Dr. Sheef. Pray do not alarm yourself on my account. I shall be obliged to you, however, if you will tell me what I am to do as speedily as possible, and let me do it so that I may leave this—this unhappy place without delay. No! I mean it, sir. I am going tonight—unless, of course," she said, with a quick look at the sheriff, "the law stands in the way."

"You are at liberty to come and go as you please, Mrs. Wrاندall," said the sheriff, "but it is most foolhardy to think of—"

"Thank you, Mr. Sheriff," she said, "for letting me go. I thought perhaps there might be legal restraint." She sent a swift glance over her shoulder, and then spoke in a high, shrill voice, indicative of extreme dread and uneasiness:

"Close the door to that room!"

The door was standing wide open, just as she had left it. Startled, the coroner's deputy sprang forward to close it. Involuntarily, all of her listeners looked in the direction of the room, as if expecting to see the form of the murdered man advancing upon them. The feeling, swiftly gone, was most uncanny.

"Close it from the inside," commanded the coroner, with unmistakable emphasis. The man hesitated, and then did as he was ordered, but not without a curious look at the wife of the dead man, whose back was toward him.

"He will not find anything disturbed, doctor," said she, divining his thought. "I had the feeling that something was creeping toward us out of that room."

"You have every reason to be nervous, madam. The situation has been most extraordinary—most trying," said the coroner. "I beg of you to come downstairs, where we may attend to a few necessary details without delay. It has been a most fatiguing matter for all of us. Hours without sleep, and such wretched weather."

They descended to the warm little reception room. She sent at once for the inn keeper, who came in and glowered at her as if she were wholly responsible for the blight that had been put upon his place.

"Will you be good enough to send some one to the station with me in your depot wagon?" she demanded without hesitation.

He stared. "We don't run a bus in the winter time," he said, gruffly. She opened the little chateaufort bag that hung from her wrist and abstracted a card which she submitted to the coroner.

Dinner Stories

James attended a circus some time since where one of the big features of the show was a beautiful lion tamer. Entering the ring, followed by the lion, the fair lion tamer placed a lump of sugar between her pretty lips which the lion took from her with his teeth. Instantly James sat right up and began to take notice.

"Great stunt, all right," he loudly shouted to the performer, "but I can do it, too!"

"Of course," scornfully replied the girl, who didn't appreciate having her act minimized, "but do you really think you can?"

"Most assuredly," was the prompt rejoinder of James, "just as well as the lion."

When the young physician's motor car reached the scene of the accident there was nothing to do: all the victims had been so slightly hurt that they were able to walk home.

The young doctor was keenly disappointed, but his chauffeur spoke up cheerfully: "Never mind, doctor. I'll run down some business on the way home."

The geography class was in session and the teacher pointed a finger to the map on the classroom wall.

"Here, on one hand, we have the far-stretching country of Russia. Willie," she asked, looking over her pupils and settling on the small boy at the end of the class, "what do we see on the other hand?"

Willie, hopeless with fright, hesitated a moment and then answered: "Warts!"

Opportunity

About three weeks ago a man, that many of the readers of this paper know, was laid off at the factory where he had worked for the past twenty years.

Now, of course, you will say that any man that has worked in one place for twenty years ought not to mind being laid off; he should have a "nest egg."

That part of it we will not discuss. This part we will. He was the sort of man that inaction meant almost death to. Work he must have. He was not particular as to its kind, so long as he kept busy and earning.

He advertised in the want ad columns for work and if he were twins he would be busy. Does this say anything to you?
